Tanzanian Criminal Law is a pioneering textbook that presents the general principles and specific offences of Tanzanian criminal law based on a systematic approach and consistent methodology. Chapters on the sources and history as well as the international dimension of criminal law in Tanzania are included. Current case law is extensively incorporated and explained. Definitions, examples, and discussion questions make the book an essential reading for both students and scholars of criminal law, as well as practitioners and judges working in the field.

African Criminal Law Series publishes peer-reviewed monographs open access and aims to create a hub for criminal law in Africa. It emerged in the context of the African German Research Network for Transnational Criminal Justice which is based at Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin (Germany).

Dr Nicksoni Filbert is a Lecturer at the University of Dar es Salaam School of Law in Tanzania. His research centers on international and transnational criminal law, transitional justice and legal ethics. He is a graduate of the Universities of Dar es Salaam (Tanzania) and Western Cape (South Africa) and holds a PhD from Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin (Germany).

Dr Jaba Shadrack is a Lecturer at the University of Dar es Salaam School of Law in Tanzania. His research interests include criminal law, juvenile justice, criminology and penology. He is a graduate of the University of Dar es Salaam (Tanzania) and holds a PhD from the University of Warwick (United Kingdom).
